

Two Evening Lectures and One-day Workshops

with British economic and monetary historian
Dr. Christopher Houghton Budd

The Mystery of Economic Life

Surplus Value and the Mission of Daniel Dunlop

So-called western economics has its origins in the Mystery of the Earth. What does this mean for our understanding of today's situation, dominated as it is by economic considerations?

25 & 26 May | Friday, 8–9.30 pm | Saturday, 9.30 am–4.30 pm

Rudolf Steiner / Maynard Keynes

Brothers in Spirit; Builders of World Economy

Was it the destiny of Steiner to speak and of Keynes to act? Can it be that the 'answer' to Steiner's quest for a world economy had to come – and can still come – from the West?

26 & 27 May | Saturday, 8–9.30 pm | Sunday, 9.30 am–4.30 pm

Cost:

Each Lecture only 18.- (Students 12.-) Each Lecture/Workshop 90.- (Students 60.-)

Both Lectures only 30.- (Students 20.-) Both Lecture/Workshops 150.- (Students 100.-)

Language: English

Enquiries and Registration: economics@goetheanum.org

Section for the Social Sciences

Goetheanum